PCLI.COM WEB SERVICES

Our website has been carefully designed as a learning tool for patients. In addition to discovering why PCLI's care is so unique, your cataract and LASIK patients will uncover answers to common questions—and some they haven't thought about. They will also learn the importance of your role in their surgical care.

Our mission is to provide the best possible comanagement services to the profession of Optometry.

OUR VALUES

- We believe in the Christian principles of love, kindness and compassion and strive to incorporate these in our patient care and the way we treat our staff.
- We believe patients' families and friends provide important support and we encourage them to be as involved as possible in our care of their loved ones.
- We believe patients and their families have a right to honest and forthright medical information presented in a manner they can understand.
- We believe that a calm, caring and cheerful environment minimizes patient stress and the need for artificial sedation.
- We believe that all our actions should be guided by integrity, honesty and courage.
- We believe that true success comes from doing the right things for the right reasons.
- We believe that efficient, quality eye care is provided best by professionals practicing at the highest level of their expertise.
- We believe that communicating openly and sharing knowledge with our optometric colleagues is crucial to providing outstanding patient care.
- We believe that the ultimate measure of our success is the complete satisfaction of the doctors who entrust us with the care of their patients.
